

PSHE Long Term Plan

Curriculum Intent

The PSHE Curriculum at Ponteland Primary School enables individuals to become healthy, independent and responsible members of society. Through our RSE teaching, children will have an understanding of their physical and mental health and will develop skills to help them maintain healthy relationships. We equip pupils with understanding and skills to make safe and informed decisions in their school life and beyond.

Within our PSHE teaching, we give children an understanding of the world around us and what it means to live in a diverse society through our Global Curriculum teaching. We will provide opportunities for children to reflect and develop empathy through discussing school, community and global issues and through the Young Leaders Award and Global Outcomes, empower children to 'be the change'.

Young Leaders Award Skills (Year 5 and Year 3)

KS1 (Year 3 - Due to Lockdown)

PSHE skills	The Award links closely to the core themes of: Health and Wellbeing, Relationships & Living in the wider world. The Award supports pupils to recognise the ways in which we are all unique, identify what they are good at and like and dislike, and how to manage when facing difficulties. Through exploring the leadership characteristics of kindness, perseverance, teamwork and action, pupils gain meaningful opportunities to grow in these and others, such as confidence, resilience, empathy and self-esteem. Many of the activities allow pupils to work and co-operate with others and form good relationships. Pupils also explore how feelings and behaviour can affect others and have the opportunity to share their opinions on things that matter to them. Pupils begin to recognise what is fair and unfair, kind and unkind and right or wrong as they take part in challenges to help others at home, school and in the community. These challenges also give great opportunities to explore how they can contribute to the life of the classroom and school and the importance of caring for their local community and environment. Pupils can begin to appreciate diversity in their community and to become more aware of people who work to help others within it.
RSE skills	The Award cultivates character traits and personal attributes as pupils explore what it means to be a leader. The topics of kindness, perseverance, teamwork and action help pupils to practise resilience and instils the belief that they can achieve and persevere with tasks despite setbacks. In exploring issues that affect their local communities, pupils consider the idea of social justice and how they can treat others with respect and use their actions to serve others showing kindness, humility and generosity. Through the personal challenges that are set, and the final community action project pupils have the opportunity to put their ideas into action and consider the impact that their actions have on community.
Personal Development	The Award can support schools to extend their curriculum beyond the academic as it provides opportunities for pupils to broaden their experiences and develop in character. The classroom materials allow pupils to explore the characteristics of kindness, perseverance and teamwork and they are challenged to put these into action in practical ways to help others. Through taking part in challenges to share kindness and work together pupils develop their resilience, confidence and independence. Pupils are prompted to consider needs in their local community and how they might be able to help, before deciding on and taking part in a project to support a need in their area. These first-hand experiences begin to equip them to be responsible, respectful and active citizens to contribute positively to society and help them to understand why this is important. Pupils also have opportunities to reflect on their own feelings, behaviour and how they relate to others. The Award can help to develop pupils' understanding of fundamental British values. Democracy is promoted as pupils are encouraged to express their opinions and consider pros and cons to reach a decision. For example, when deciding on a community action project. Individual liberty is also encouraged as pupils as pupils listen to, respect and value others' opinions. The Award also promotes an inclusive environment where all pupils have opportunities to thrive and celebrate their individuality and achievements through the strong practical and discussion focus of the resources.
Moral	Pupils can begin to recognise the difference between right and wrong and how their own words and actions impact others around them as they take part in practical activities and challenges to practice leadership skills. Pupils learn about the stories of people who have changed the world for the better and taken a stand against injustice. They also have opportunities to consider their own response to issues of need in their communities and the world and how their behaviour and actions can have positive or negative consequences. For example, loneliness or homelessness. The resources also suggest that schools organise a visit from someone in the local community who works to meet some of these needs, for example, a representative from a charity or place of worship.
Social	The teamwork strand of the Award explicitly explores the importance of working with others, while the whole Award offers numerous activities where pupils work together to complete a task or challenge. Through these pupils use a range of social skills in different contexts and have opportunities to work with a variety of their peers. Pupils learn to cooperate well with others, to share ideas and to resolve conflicts effectively, working towards a common goal. As pupils take on the community action project, opportunities can often arise for them to participate in a variety of community and social settings, interacting with new and diverse groups of people.
KS2 (Year 5)

PSHE skills	The Award links closely to the core themes of: Health and Wellbeing, Relationships & Living in the wider world. Pupils explore leadership skills such as kindness, perseverance, teamwork, courage and communication. They are given meaningful opportunities to put these skills, and others, into action. In doing so they grow in confidence, resilience, empathy and self-esteem. Pupils take on personal challenges alongside working together to organise bigger projects to help their school and local community. Through these they reflect on and celebrate their achievements, identify their personal qualities, strengths and areas for improvement and set high aspirations and goals. Many of the activities allow pupils to work with others and form good relationships. They take on different roles and responsibilities within a group and work collaboratively towards shared goals. Pupils also have opportunities to listen and respond respectfully to a wide range of people including their peers and members of their wider community. Through 'big discussion questions' pupils can share their ideas and opinions and grow in confidence to raise their own concerns, to recognise and care about other people's feelings and to try to see, respect and if necessary, constructively challenge others' points of view. The Award highlights pupils' responsibilities at home, at school, in the community and towards the environment and gives them practical ways to meet these. The Award also explores the idea of community at a local, national and global level and allows pupils to consider the lives of people living in other places and with different needs.
RSE skills	The Award cultivates character traits and personal attributes as pupils explore what it means to be a leader. The award activities enable pupils to practice resilience and instils the belief that they can achieve and persevere with tasks despite setbacks. In exploring issues that affect their local communities, pupils consider the idea of social justice and how they can treat others with respect and use their actions to serve others showing kindness, humility and generosity. Through the personal challenges that are set, and the final community action project pupils have the opportunity to put their ideas into action and consider the impact that their actions have on community.
Personal Development	Pupils will engage in learning and activities that help them to consider and grow in skills such as self-awareness, teamwork, communication and compassion. Through taking part in challenges to share kindness and make a positive difference to society pupils develop their resilience, confidence and independence. Pupils are prompted to consider needs in their local community and how they might be able to help, before deciding on and taking part in a project to support a need in their area. These firsthand experiences begin to equip them to be responsible, respectful and active citizens to contribute positively to society and help them to understand why this is important. Pupils also have opportunities to reflect on their own feelings, behaviour and how they relate to others. The Award can help to develop pupils' understanding of fundamental British values. Democracy is promoted as pupils are encouraged to express their opinions and consider pros and cons to reach a decision. For example, when deciding on a community action project. Individual liberty is also encouraged as pupils listen to, respect and value others' opinions. The Award also promotes an inclusive environment where all pupils have opportunities to thrive and celebrate their individuality and achievements.
Moral	Pupils appreciate the difference between right and wrong and how their words and actions impact others around them as they take part in practical activities and challenges to develop leadership skills. Pupils learn about the stories of inspirational leaders and the work of charities who have changed the world for the better and taken a stand against injustice. They also have opportunities to consider their own response to issues of need in their communities and the world. For example, loneliness or homelessness. Here they can begin to offer reasoned views about moral and ethical issues and to appreciate the viewpoints of others on these issues.

The Reactive Curriculum

As a school, we aim to keep children informed with current affairs and issues which are happening in our environment and wider society, as part of our PSHE delivery. This is something that cannot be anticipated and our 'Reactive Curriculum' allows us the flexibility to 'react' to events that happen in school, in the local community and in the national news. As and when events occur, we equip children with reliable sources of information and encourage discussion around these issues.
